

Take 5 Car Wash expands footprint with 17 openings in Colorado

The brand has built and rebuilt sites as part of its owner's, Driven Brands, expansion strategy across the country.

Take 5 Car Wash has expanded its footprint in the greater Denver, Colorado Springs and western Colorado areas with 17 openings and reopenings. The new sites have been built or acquired by the brand and are catering customers since October 20 under the Take 5 brand.

"Transitioning to the Take 5 brand ties us in with the rest of our wash family across the country. Many customers don't know they can wash at hundreds of locations nationwide. The full Take 5 name and experience will build brand awareness with customers in Colorado," said Brandon Young, District Manager of Take 5 Car Wash in a report published by the Retail & Restaurant news site.

Take 5 is one of the largest express car wash operators in the country, operating a network that consists of over 360 locations nationwide. As a member of Driven Brands, the company is part of an international network that reaches 1,000 locations throughout 14 countries.

Driven Brands also owns other automotive service brands such as Take 5 Oil Change, Meineke Car Care Centers, Maaco, 1-800-Radiator & A/C and CARSTAR. The firm serves over 50 million vehicles a year across its more than 4,500 locations in 15 countries.
